Section 4. Special Meetings

According to the ASCR bylaws the following distinction can be made between working meetings and business meetings:

Business VS. Working Meetings

Requirements or Actions Available	Working Meeting	Business Meeting
Advisor Must Be Present		X
Quorum Must Be Established		X
Voting Can Take Place		X
Discussion Can Take Place	X	X
Items Can Be Placed on Agenda	X	X*

Working Meetings:

- Typically used for agenda creation.
- Used to discuss current work being done and get feedback, so it doesn't slow down a business meeting. □

*Items can be placed on an agenda for a business meeting, if a motion is made to amend the agenda after the meeting has been called to order.

ARTICLE VII - Amendments

A motion of any member and then a called vote of the club membership can amend the constitution. The club constitution needs to coincide with the ASCR regulations.
